

Michael Celona

Michael Celona is a Drinking Water Specialist with the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection. His work focuses on supporting the operation of public water systems and addressing levels of lead in drinking water at schools and childcare facilities. He joined the Department in 2019 after 20 years at the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, where he oversaw the recreational water quality monitoring program. He has a Bachelors in Environmental Science from Wheaton College and a Masters in Environmental Policy from Tufts University.